

Index to Volume 55

Bennett, J.T., and DiLorenzo, T.J. How (and why) Congress twists its own arm: The political economy of tax-funded politics	199
Brown, S.P.A. The fairness of discounting: A majority rule approach	215
*Calvert, R.L. Reputation and legislative leadership	81
Chang, W.W., and Southwick, L. On the pricing and benefit structure of a private club or public utility	227
Coursey, D.L. Markets and the measurement of value (Reply, see Gregory, R., and Furby, L., for Comment)	291
DiLorenzo, T.J. See Bennett, J.T.
*Dudley, L., and Montmarquette, C. Bureaucratic corruption as a constraint on voter choice	127
*Epple, D., and Riordan, M.H. Cooperation and punishment under repeated majority voting	41
Furby, L. See Gregory, R.
*Garber, S. The economics and political economy of broadcasting: Challenges in developing an analytic foundation – A comment on the Noam paper	189
Grampp, W.D. Britain and free trade: In whose interest?	245
*Green, E.J. A comment on the Epple and Riordan paper	75
Gregory, R., and Furby, L. Auctions, experiments, and contingent valuation (Comment, see Coursey, D.L., for Reply)	273
*Ingberman, D.E. Comment on the Calvert paper	121
*Meltzer, A.H., Poole, K., and Romer, T. Introduction	1
*Mills, E.S. Comments on the Dudley and Montmarquette paper	161
Montmarquette, D. See Dudley, L.
Murthy, N.R.V. Bureaucracy and the divisibility of local public output: Further econometric evidence	265
*Noam, E.M. A public and private-choice model of broadcasting	163
*North, D.C. Comment on the Riker paper	35

- Poole, K. See Meltzer, A.H.
- *Riker, W.H. The lessons of 1787 5
- Riordan, M.H. See Eppe, C.
- Romer, T. See Meltzer, A.H.
- Sav, G.T. Institutional structure, finance, and race in higher education: Public-private sectoral differences 257
- Southwick, L. See Chang, W.W.

